Commercial

Question	Answer
In the tender documents under each Divider there's a NEC document for that section. It says Attach a CSD document, does it have to be attached specifically there or can it be attached under our Commercial documents?	The CSD can be attached under the commercial section of the tender. It does not need to be attached multiple times.
In the NEC commercial documents you have attached the SBD4 forms with it & separately. Is it necessary to fill all of the SBD4's given or just 1?	The SBD 4 document can be attached under the commercial section of the tender. It does not need to be attached multiple times.
Is it just the tender document itself to be initialled on each page or all the NEC's as well?	It is preferable to have the full submission initialed however the mandatory requirements all need to be initialed therefore all the commercial, technical and S,D&L requirements should be initialed
